

“ The EPPA Scribe Program and the providers I worked with truly cared about my future as a doctor and taught me more than I realized. I attribute a large portion of my early success in medical school to what I learned as an EPPA scribe! ”

Ellen Pappas

University of St. Thomas Graduate
EPPA Scribe 2014 - 2016
Current Medical Student, ACOM

“ Being a part of a health care team as a scribe showed me the importance of respect, communication and teamwork. Now, as a provider, I use these skills every day and value all of the hard work each staff member (including my scribe) puts toward providing quality patient care. ”

Samantha Frank, PA-C

EPPA Scribe 2013 – 2014
St. Catherine’s PA Program Graduate
Current EPPA Physician’s Assistant

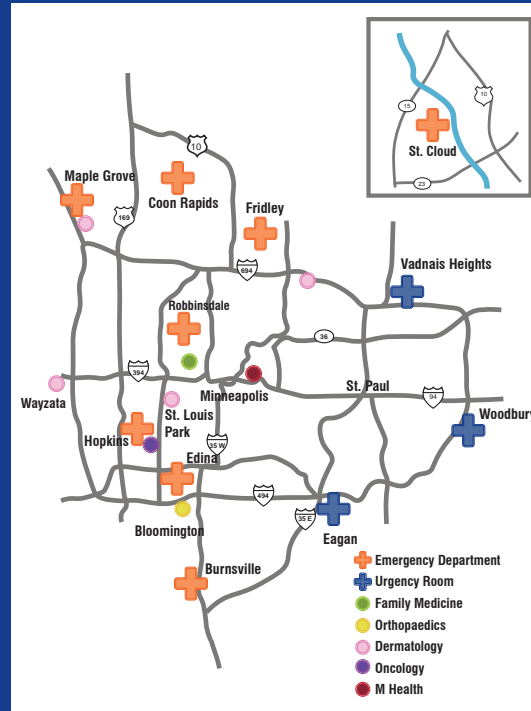

“ I worked alongside providers to help them see patients while growing a deeper understanding and fascination for the practice of medicine. The experiences found, relationships forged, application resources offered to me, and leadership opportunities pursued during my time at EPPA have all been absolutely life-changing and completely invaluable in the impact they’ve had on my personal life and my overall application to medical school. ”

Dan Jaeger

Hamline University Graduate
EPPA Lead Scribe 2014 – 2018
Accepted Medical Student

Current Locations

The EPPA Scribe Program supports hospitals and clinics throughout the Twin Cities and St. Cloud.

MEDICAL SCRIBE PROGRAM

“ When I look back on my life, there are three moments that stand out to me as the most significant; 1. My wedding, 2. The birth of my first child, 3. The day I got a scribe. ”

Various Locations and Specialties:

- Level I Trauma Center
- High Volume Emergency Departments
- University of Minnesota Clinics
- Specialties include: Primary Care, Orthopaedics, Oncology, Dermatology, Endocrinology, Nephrology, and more.

Why Scribe?

EPPA scribes change the patient and provider experience. By documenting the patient encounter in the electronic health record, scribes capture vital information and free providers to spend more time with patients.

In a preliminary oncology study, EPPA scribes helped reduce the time patients had to wait to see an oncologist after their initial cancer diagnosis.

Professional Development Focus

We've worked with thousands of pre-health students and understand that it takes more than a great clinical experience to get into professional school.

EPPA is passionate about creating an exceptional learning environment through professional development and educational workshops. We ensure that our scribes go into their interviews feeling confident and well prepared.

EPPA Scribes have attended Medical and PA School at:

- UMN Medical Schools
- UW School of Medicine and Public Health
- Medical College of Wisconsin
- Loyola Stritch School of Medicine
- Mayo Clinic School of Medicine
- Rosalind Franklin School of Medicine and Science
- Des Moines University College of Osteopathic Medicine
- Kansas City University of Medicine and Biosciences
- University of Iowa College of Medicine
- Augsburg University PA Program
- St. Catherine's University PA Program
- Bethel University PA Program
- And Many More!

“The local PA programs tell me that scribes come in and leave as the best students. They tend to be more comfortable in front of patients and are better at synthesizing clinical information, because they've seen this stuff before, experienced it in context, and are familiar with the language of medicine.”

Dr. Currie, EPPA Medical Director of Quality
